🖹Final Report of Supermarket Sales Analysis

📊FINDINGS

1. Executive Summary

- Net Sales: $1.63M
- Profit After Tax: $1.62M
- Key takeaway: The supermarket is profitable with minimal tax impact.

2. Revenue Analysis

- City-wise Revenue
  - Chicago: $592,107.01 (highest)
  - New York: $566,840.43
  - Los Angeles: $473,449.07
- Insight: Chicago is the strongest market, but New York is close behind.

3. Product Performance

- Shampoo, Notebook, Orange Juice are the top products which yield highest revenue to the supermarket.
- Insight: Drives categories drive sales.

4. Customer Segmentation

- Members: $880,289.12
- Walk-in Customers: $752,107.39
- Insight: Members are loyal customers so suggested to conduct more loyalty program to boost revenue.

5. Branch Tax Contribution

- Branch A: $5417.77
- Branch B: $2,340.24
- Insight: Branch A contributes significantly more tax which may indicate of sale of higher taxable products.

6. Rewards Program Impact

- Correlation between rewards and sales: Positive correlation observed.
- Highest reward point: 43 → Sales $8,801.32.
- Even at zero reward points, sales were $8,744.81.
- Insight: Rewards boost sales, but baseline sales remain strong even without points.

🎯 RECOMMENDATIONS

- Strengthen marketing in Chicago; explore growth in Los Angeles
- Expand loyalty program to maximize member revenue
- Investigate Branch A's higher tax contribution
- Promote top products with bundled offers
- Optimize reward point strategy for high-value customers